

Mac Donald, 'Savior' To Some, 'Traitor' To Others, Dies on Trip

Seventy-one-year-old Scotsman, First British Labor Prime Minister, Dies Aboard Ship—Bound for Rest.

TRIBUTES COME

Formation of National Government under George V Brings High Praise.

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—The death of James Ramsay MacDonald, the son of a poor Scottish farmer, who lived to decline an earldom, divided Britain today in appraisal of his life.

Against those who lauded the three-time prime minister as savior of the nation in the dark days of 1931, there were others who regarded him as a traitor to the labor party he built.

The 71-year-old Scotsman, Britain's first labor prime minister and the first prime minister to visit the United States, died last night aboard a South American-bound ship on a quest for the peace and happiness he had failed to find in his unique, stormy political career.

He had sailed last Thursday in search of what he called "the most elusive of all forms of happiness—rest."

Death apparently was due to a heart attack following a long period of poor health. His daughter, Sheila, his sole companion on the voyage, messaged that the body would be taken off the ship, Rina del Pacifico, at Bermuda Monday and returned for burial either in England or at his beloved Lossiemouth, Scotland.

Birthplace Stands.
The two-room cottage where he was born October 12, 1866, still stands in Lossiemouth.

Relatives said MacDonald probably would be buried beside his wife, Margaret, who died in 1911, in the tiny cemetery of Spynie Kirk at Lossiemouth. The cemetery lies near where the river Lossie pours into the wind-swept Moray Firth.

MacDonald often praised the beautiful countryside which, he said, "makes a Scot want to stay there forever."

Tribute came from all parties for the man who rose from that humble dwelling to No. 10 Downing street. But the tribute was for two distinct phases of his career.

Conservatives praised MacDonald's momentous action in forming a national government at the behest of King George V in the financial crisis of 1931—an action which cost him the friendship of virtually all his old Labor and Socialist colleagues.

But his one-time co-workers, who in 1931 had denounced him as deserting them "for the drawing rooms of the rich," today praised his work for labor before the great split.

"Most Hated Man"
Aloof and almost autocratic, MacDonald twice won the dubious title of "the most hated man in British politics"—for his pacifist stand during the world war and for his leaving of the Labor party to form the coalition government following the financial crisis of '31. He had become Britain's first Labor prime minister in 1924.

Only six weeks ago the Scotsman who never accumulated wealth was bequeathed about $200,000 in trust by Sir Alexander Grant, a biscuit manufacturer and close friend of the former prime minister.

After resigning as prime minister June 7, 1935, when he was succeeded by Conservative Stanley Baldwin, MacDonald remained in public life until last May.

As Lord President of the Council he shared duties in connection with the abdication of Edward VIII last December and the coronation of George VI. Last May he gave up his office and was offered a peerage but declined the honor.

Later he remarked that he hardly could expect his north country friends, who had always called him "Jamey," to call a native of Lossiemouth "Milord."

Masselman Arraigned.

George H. Masselman of Westport, Conn., author, who was arrested at Woodstock July 5, last, by Deputy Sheriff Ray Winne and held for grand jury action by Justice of the Peace Wallace Shultis, on a charge of abandonment and failure to provide for his minor children, was arraigned in county court Tuesday afternoon under an indictment handed up by the recent grand jury. Through his attorney, A. J. Cook, he entered a plea of not guilty and bail was continued.

City Hall Closed

All of the offices in the city hall with the exception of police headquarters, will be closed all day Thursday—Armistice Day.

Election Checks Ready

City Clerk E. J. Dempsey said today that the checks for the election officials would be ready for distribution at his office on Friday.

Japanese Planes and Guns Mop Up Nantao Section of Shanghai

International Zone Again in Midst of Hostilities as Tokyo Troops Seek to Expel Chinese Stragglers.

SMALL TOLL OF LIFE

Little Life Thought Lost, Due to Evacuation of the Area on Tuesday.

Shanghai, Nov. 10 (AP)—Japanese airplanes and artillery today bombed Nantao, Chinese quarter adjacent to the French concession, plunging the foreign area of Shanghai again into the midst of hostilities.

Some 20 Japanese bombing planes dropped explosives along the Nantao Whangpoo River waterfront within a few hundred yards of the anchorage of American and foreign men of war.

Simultaneously, Japanese artillery in Chapel threw a stream of shells across the International Settlement and French concession into the Nantao area.

The attack was designed to drive out remnants of the Chinese army which retreated from Shanghai yesterday to defense lines farther inland. It followed a Japanese announcement that Nantao would be bombed unless the Chinese troops, variously estimated to number from several hundred to several thousand, withdrew.

The Japanese shells and bombs probably took a smaller toll of life than might have been expected because of wholesale evacuation of civilians from Nantao within the last 24 hours.

The Japanese planes, which approached the Nantao waterfront from the east, included both army and navy bombers and pursuit craft. The pursuit planes flew over both the International Settlement and the French concession.

Fires Start
The bombs and shells started fires in parts of Nantao before the brief attack ended.

A detachment of marines landed from the French flagship, the cruiser Lamotte Piqueur, to strengthen French forces manning the borders of the concession. French troops cleared streets in the southern section of the concession, driving the populace northward from the danger zone.

Chinese soldiers near the French concession border indicated they had no intention of withdrawing. Before the aerial bombardment they had withdrawn to a Japanese snook shop and had declared they would resist until death.

Planes ranging west of Shanghai bombed the airfield area of Nanking, the nation's capital. Some Nanking residents said they feared a resumption of extended raids which had been interrupted by Japanese intensification of the Shanghai campaign.

Resigned to Retreat
Chinese officials at Nanking apparently were resigned to a gradual withdrawal of Chinese troops from the Shanghai region to main line defenses inland. They saw a possibility of a temporary lull in hostilities, however, explaining that Japanese probably would be busy consolidating their gains and establishing some sort of puppet regime at Shanghai.

Before the air and artillery attack on Nantao, American and foreign residents watched Japanese troops assault Chinese diehards entrenched near the French concession. A Japanese army spokesman had asserted Japanese quickly would mop up the region.

Luther DeLong, 62, Dies at Hospital Following Crash At Wittenberg on Tuesday

J. R. Page, above, is shown in hope, Ark., hospital recuperating from wounds he says were inflicted by Mrs. R. C. Kelly, mother of Georgia's Governor, E. D. Rivers. Mrs. Kelly posted $500 bond on charges of assault with intent to kill.

Dog Catching and Who Should Pay for It, Is Supervisors' Subject

Infant Mortality Rate Reduced Here In Last 9 Months

The first meeting of the annual session of the Ulster county board of supervisors Tuesday evening was enlivened by a bit of controversy between various supervisors as to whether towing which now employ a dog catcher and pay him out of their general fund, should be compelled to help "pay the shot" of dog catching in towns which have not appointed a dog catcher.

Superintendent Tuthill McDowell of Waverburgh upheld the negative side of the debate and Supervisor Wadlin defended his motion that the sheriff investigate reported damage by wild or uncontrolled dogs in the towns of Hurley and Marlinton.

Dog catching came to the fore when County Treasurer Pratt Bole reported that he had just received claims amounting to over $1,100 in the past two weeks for damage done by dogs to stock. He reported that this loss was paid by the county from the proceeds of the dog tax money and he told the board that every dollar spent in paying claims would mean just that much less dog tax money to be distributed by the county to the various towns. Only 10 per cent of the dog tax money is paid in to the state and 90 per cent is divided among the towns.

This damage was reported done by three police dogs which have been observed running wild in the vicinity of Cottick recently. One family which was away lost over 400 chickens and a neighbor lost 17. In the last two weeks in Marlinton and Hurley claims amounting to $1,100 have been filed with the county treasurer.

Suggests Steps
Mr. Bole said he believed that some steps should be taken and he suggested that either a county dog warden be appointed to take up the task of catching the stray animals or that the individual towns appoint a dog catcher. He said he had been told by people of the locality where the serious loss happened that there were three police dogs running wild. He said the 431 chickens had been killed in a single hour while the family had been absent. The dogs were like wolves and killed practically an entire flock.

In some towns there are no claims filed but these towns are also the losers, because where claims are paid it reduces the amount of "dog money" to be returned proportionately to each town. Mr. Bole said a county dog warden was allowed by the law and such a man could be paid out of the county's dog money. If each town appointed a dog catcher it came out of the General Fund.

Supervisor Wadlin moved that in order to expedite matters that the sheriff be authorized by the board to make an investigation and have one of his officers round up the dogs which were doing damage and in the event this plan did not work out that at the next meeting of the board other plans be made. If the sheriff can't hunt down the dogs then he said a warden might be appointed.

Supervisor Phinney seconded the Wadlin resolution but before the matter was finally dropped there was a considerable discussion with Supervisor McDowell

Aldermen Study Increase in Pay For City Council

WALKS OUT OF "HEAVEN"

Mayor C. J. Heiselman sent in a communication to the Common Council Tuesday evening calling attention to the greatly increased duties of the corporation counsel and recommending that a local law be introduced increasing the salary from the present $1,500 a year to $2,500.

Mayor Heiselman's communication was referred to the laws and rules committee, which later reported favorably and introduced a local law providing for the increase, which had its first reading at the meeting that evening.

Mayor Heiselman's communication read as follows:

To the Honorable,
The Common Council,
Kingston, New York.
Gentlemen:

The corporation counsel's office is the legal department of the city of Kingston. The corporation counsel's office handles all legal matters for every department of the city government.

During the emergency period, the increase in municipal responsibility has been reflected in the enlarged duties devolving on the legal department. Since the administration of all categories of welfare and relief are now consolidated, many legal actions are necessary involving questions of legal responsibility for support of adults and children. The public works program necessitates many searches of title and the preparation of easements, agreements and contracts of various kinds.

Practically all steps taken in the municipal government are predicated upon a law. The corporation counsel, as the legal advisor of every city department, is constantly at the beck and call of all boards and department heads, citing and interpreting the law and preparing the necessary legal documents. In fact, the legal work of the city has increased to such an extent as to require the major part of the corporation counsel's time.

For some years the charter has fixed the salary of the corporation counsel at $1,500.00 per annum. Those who have served the city in that capacity in recent years have done so more out of a sense of civic duty than a desire to earn the meager income to be derived therefrom.

I therefore recommend that your honorable body enact a local law, fixing the salary of the Corporation Counsel at $2,500.00 per annum, and that the salary of his clerk be fixed at $300.00 per annum, which is the present allowance for a clerk.

The attached table shows the salaries paid to Corporation Counsels by various cities of our class. The work of a city's legal department is most important and the duties nowadays are heavy. I think the time has arrived when we should put the Corporation Counsel at least on par with the other members of the Mayor's cabinet so far as salary is concerned, and through this modest increase to bring his salary up to the minimum paid by other New York State cities of like size.

Very truly yours,
C. J. HEISELMAN, Mayor.

George Shultis, Driver of Car in Which DeLong Was Passenger, Cut About Head—Truckman Hurt.

NO ARRESTS

Sergeant Cunningham Visits Scene, Makes No Arrests—Physician Called.

Luther DeLong, 62, resident of Wittenberg, died at the Kingston Hospital about 2:10 o'clock this morning as the result of a fractured skull and other injuries received in an automobile accident involving four cars about 4:15 Tuesday afternoon. The scene of the accident was about a quarter of a mile east of the Larry Hogan garage on the Bearsville-Mt. Tremper county highway, on what is known as the Wittenberg flats.

DeLong was riding in a Ford coach, which was being driven west by George Shultis of Wittenberg. Ahead of the Shultis car and proceeding in the same direction was a Ford truck driven by George Clapper of Glenford.

Tried to Pass Truck.
According to the facts as ascertained by Sergeant James J. Cunningham and Trooper Roger Merritt, who investigated the accident, Shultis pulled out around the truck just as a Whippet sedan driven by Walter Cole, of Blue Mountain, who was driving east, approached. Following behind the Cole car was a Packard roadster driven by George E. Rose of Shady.

When he saw the approaching car driven by Shultis, Cole pulled off the road. Shultis, taking what is said to have been a zig-zag course, struck the Packard car which had been following Cole, shot across the highway and turned over on its side. Meanwhile the truck, driven by Clapper, in trying to get through the mix-up, struck the overturned Shultis car.

Shultis Cut on Head.
In addition to the fatal injuries sustained by DeLong, Shultis sustained cuts about the head and Clapper had a bruised knee. The injured people were treated by Dr. Hans Cohn of Shokan and Dr. George W. Harnack at Woodstock, who had been summoned. The Conner ambulance was summoned, but before its arrival DeLong had been taken to the hospital in another car.

Fred Cole, who was riding with his son, Walter Cole, was uninjured.

Coroner Leston DuBois was notified, following DeLong's death and ordered an autopsy.

No Arrests.
Sergeant Cunningham and Trooper Merritt, assisted by Troopers Metzger and Reynolds of the B. C. L., were continuing an investigation of the affair today. No arrests had been made up to this morning.

On Eve of Armistice Day

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—Between tonight's civilian sunset and tomorrow's military sunset 83 Americans now living will join an old comrade in death.

They are veterans of the World War who 19 years ago on November 11, laid down their arms in armistice and who now, the veterans administration said, are dying at that daily rate.

Their comrades is that mute sentinel of the warrior dead—America's unknown soldier.

Many of the survivors are well and happy, but:

Fifty-two thousand are in hospitals and institutions . . . six times that number are without regular jobs . . . others are maimed of limb and mind.

The veterans administration has expended $22,236,749.241 . . . adjusted service certificates have gone out to 3,458,967 veterans . . . about 1,400,000,000 of the bonds have been turned into cash.

The treasury, on the eve of Armistice Day, checked back over the following ledgers and estimated that the World War has cost the United States—

$46,192,000,000!

Destiny in 19 years has kicked the scene upside down.

The war president, Woodrow Wilson, is long dead.

The wartime assistant secretary of the navy—Franklin D. Roosevelt—will go to the sloping hills of Arlington Cemetery tomorrow to lay a wreath on the unknown soldier's grave.

Soldiers have become senators . . . generals have died . . . captains are colonels . . . heroes of battle are leaders of industry.

Mothers, wives and daughters still write the war department frantically searching for information about the unknown soldier. . . "He may be ours."

They waited, waited . . . The street grew quiet, deserted. Finally the door buzzer sounded. Patrolman Joseph Insard stepped to the entrance. Was this their long awaited man? The door swung open, three men moved in. One shoved a revolver close to Insard's.

"Get back," he growled. "It's a stick-up."

Insard brushed the gun aside, pulled his own revolver, shot the man in the left arm. The others fled.

McKelvey and his men dashed after them. They captured one of the men, the other got away.

Back in the brownstone house later the two men said they were Hyman Berman, 31, and Max Chester, 21.

Yes, McKelvey said they told him, they, too, had heard of the floating dice game and were looking for it.

Ascension Church Rites on Friday

On Friday evening of this week at 8 o'clock, the parish of the Church of the Ascension, West Park, will commemorate the consecration of its famous old church building by the Right Rev. Benjamin Treadwell Underdonk, D. D., Bishop of New York, on November 12, 1842.

A special service has been arranged. The music will be under the direction of Mrs. W. Herman Jordan of Highland, who is choir mistress and organist. Mrs. Jordan also will sing "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes Into the Hills," which was written and composed by Marjory Watkins.

The preacher will be the Rev. Frank R. Wilson, rector of St. James Church, Hyde Park. It was from St. James Church that the Church of the Ascension began as a mission during the rectorship of the Rev. Reuben Sherwood, D. D.

In the light of present day building costs, especially the cost for church building, it is of interest to note that the present stone structure cost only $1,500 to erect in 1842; and that it took four months to build it. The builder was William Connolly of Esopus, and the architect, Mr. Johnston of New York City. The treasurer of the church was Archibald Russell. The building contract was entered into on June 21, 1842. The money to provide for the building of the structure was donated by Mrs. Anna Watts of the Suyveant-Rutherford family, and the name "Ascension" was given to the parish partly because of the fact that Mrs. Watts was a member of the famous Church of the Ascension in New York City. Mrs. Watts was a summer resident for several years in West Park (better known as Riverside in those old days) and she maintained a generous financial interest in the affairs of the parish until her death.

The first rector called to serve was the Rev. Albert D. Traver. The present incumbent is the Rev. Arthur McKay Ackerson, whose rectorship began on November 1, 1935.

Immediately after the special service on Friday night, an informal get-together will be held in the parish house, where light refreshments will be served.

ASKS RESPECT FOR FLAG OF UNITED STATES

Editor, The Freeman:
Do not permit disrespect to be shown to the flag of the United States of America.

The flag of the United States symbolized that freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which our forefathers sacrificed their lives and personal fortunes. Today this flag represents a nation of over 100,000,000 free people, its Constitution and institutions, its achievements and aspirations.

The Flag Is Passing By
Hats off! Along the street there comes

A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A flash of color beneath the sky:
Hats off! The flag is passing by:
Blue and crimson and white it shines,

Over the steel-topped ordered lines.
Hats off! The colors before us fly,
But more than the flag is passing by.

Sign of a nation, great and strong,
To ward her people from foreign wrong,
Pride and glory, honor, all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.

Hats off! Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
And loyal hearts are beating high.
Hats off! The flag is passing by.

Paul Wright Held Today on Suspicion Of Murder Charge

Glendale, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP).—Paul Wright, president of Union Air Terminal, was held on suspicion of murder today pending a coroner's inquest into the fatal shooting of his wife and "my best friend."

Wright summoned police to his fashionable home early yesterday and showed them Mrs. Evelyn Wright and John B. Kimmel, operations manager of the airport, both dying. He said he shot them when he found them embracing.

Chief V. B. Browne said Wright had made a written confession that related: "My wife looked up at me and smiled or sort of laughed, and then kissed Johnny on the lips. Everything went white hot. I got my automatic pistol. I don't know how many times I fired. I just recall pulling the trigger. I walked out into the night air; didn't even look back at them, and called the police."

"I guess this is just one of those things that happens to men who break. I never had suspected Evelyn and Kimmel. He was a perfect gentleman, one of my best friends."

"I had suspected Evelyn of stepping out with other men because of little things she said and did, little remarks, absences from home and things of that sort. She often told me she did those things just to make me jealous, but they disgusted me more than they made me jealous."

"We were not too happy. . . . But I shouldn't say these things about her. Let me say that, instead."

Wright told the authorities the shooting followed a night of drinking. He felt "dopey" and retired. Awakened by piano music, he said, he re-entered the living room to find his wife embracing Kimmel.

The building was completed Saturday evening, and a temporary arrangement for a chimney made, which resulted in the fire causing the damage. No insurance was carried on building or equipment. About 100 hens were killed, but baby chicks, batteries, etc., were saved. The house and out buildings were also protected by the firemen. Water was secured from a nearby pond.

Never before has it been possible to buy a truly economical spread with a flavor so refreshing—so delicate—so completely satisfying that it will tempt and delight the entire family. And unlike ordinary margarines Parkay is not only an excellent energy food but also is a good source of precious Vitamin A, which is essential to growth, and Vitamin D, the rare sunshine vitamin.

Buy a pound of Parkay tomorrow from your grocer. You'll be surprised and delighted that anything can cost so little—yet be so irresistibly good! Use Parkay freely on the table, as a spread for bread—and in cooking instead of common shortenings. The rich flavor, the high nutritional value and the economy of Parkay make it the first real All-Purpose margarine, ideal for table use—baking—frying—in fact all types of cooking instead of ordinary shortening.

The Secret of PARKAY'S Tempting Flavor

An exclusive new method of blending wholesome vegetable oils with pure double pasteurized skimmed milk (scientifically cultured) gives Parkay a delicious delicate flavor that will delight every member of your family.

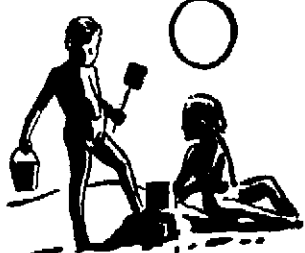

Parkay is a product of wholesome vegetables raised under nature's glorious sunshine on the fertile farm lands of America . . . made in sanitary kitchens where its vital freshness and its pure natural whiteness are retained.

Parkay THE 3-VALUE FOOD!

1. VITAMIN A 2. VITAMIN D 3. ENERGY

The Vitamin A added to every pound of Parkay greatly increases its nutritional value . . . makes Parkay a uniform year 'round source of this precious vitamin which is essential to growth. Give your family this extra nourishment—three times a day.

The Vitamin D in Parkay also increases its nutritional value—makes it a reliable, year 'round source of this "sunshine" vitamin—so important to everyone's health. It aids in formation of strong straight bones and hard, well-shaped teeth.

Every active person, whether child or adult, requires an abundance of foods which supply energy to the body. The pure, wholesome vegetable oils from which Parkay is made are among the very best energy foods you can put on your table.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JAGGER

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—A thin stock market stepped gingerly up fractions to 7 points today.

Scarcity of offerings rather than brisk demand produced the rise. Up to early afternoon gains ran to around 3 points. In the fourth hour, various issues extended upturns on skimpy turnover with volume generally at low ebb.

Financial circles said sentiment was considerably improved on the assumption the administration may change its attitude toward business.

Transactions ran at the rate of 1,700,000 shares.

Bonds were in demand. Cotton and grains stiffened. The pound sterling and French franc were narrow.

Utilities Gain After Statement By the President

Some indication that there may be a touch of silver lining to the clouds that have enveloped the utilities during recent years was seen yesterday in remarks by the President to the effect that if private utility companies will accept the New Deal's basis of property valuation the federal government will not go into competition with them. He indicated that the administration is willing to allow power and light corporations the special protection of a monopoly status provided they will value their plants under what he referred to as the common law theory and capitalize them accordingly.

Probably reflecting the President's statement utilities gained yesterday, rising up 0.65 point, to 21.96 on the Dow-Jones averages. Industrial stocks advanced 2.18 points, to 126.16 and rails gained 0.38 point, to 32.08. Trading was active, with 1,050,000 shares changing hands. American shares were strong at London and Amsterdam. Paris Bourse was weak. Bank of Netherlands gold reserve reached a record high in week ended November 4.

Wheat, with an export demand estimated at 1,250,000 bushels, was strong. Cotton was steady. Members of the House Ways and Means sub-committee and the treasury staff have agreed, at least informally, to a revision of the income tax law which would permit a taxpayer who sustains a net capital loss in one year to carry it forward and offset it against any net gain he may realize in the following year, according to Washington reports.

There is prospect of even broader relaxation of capital gains tax.

With new financing increasing difficulty under present economic conditions many companies are reported to be planning to pay heavy surplus profits taxes, in order to maintain their cash reserve, instead of paying an extra dividend to stockholders in order to avoid the tax. This is seen as the cheapest way to get capital if needed.

It is stated that the U. S. has sold anywhere up to $150,000,000 of gold to foreign countries during the past month and a half, as a result of the movement of foreign capital out of this country. The bulk of the gold is said to have come out of the undisclosed holdings of the American Stabilization Fund.

Among earnings reports for the 12 months ended September 30 are: American Gas & Electric, $13,389,922, or $2.51 a common share, compared with $11,726,885, or $2.14 a share in 1936; United Light & Power, 48 cents a share compared with 29 cents a share; Continental Gas, $15.69 a share vs. $14.09; North American Light & Power earned $1,970,707 compared with $809,969 in 1936.

A decline of 10 per cent in auto industry's dollar volume in 1936 is forecast by a General Motors executive, although he predicts a slightly better year for General Motors.

No. 1 heavy steel scrap was cut $1 a ton yesterday at Pittsburgh to $14.50.

Marriner Killer Dies on Gallows

Belrut, Lebanon, Nov. 10 (AP)—Crooning a song in Turkish, Me-guerdich Karayan, 29-year-old assassin of United States Consul General James Theodore Marriner, went to his death on the gallows at dawn today.

The significance of the song went unexplained but the words were: "I have waited for thee but thou hast not come."

Karayan, an Armenian who had lived in Boston as a naturalized American, was hurried to the gallows after a night of calm sleep. In his last words he told witnesses of the execution that an "insult motivated my crime."

He ended his last speech with: "I die with Washington!"

The body remained for two hours on the scaffold in front of the high commissariat building. Karayan's petition for reprieve from a sentence imposed last Friday was rejected yesterday.

Raisin Flavor Observed

The early Egyptians first discovered the flavor of raisins. A few scattered bunches of grapes were left on the vines at harvest time. The concentration of grape sugars provided a new fruit. In the first century, Asia Minor became the center of production; by 1300 A. D., Spain and Hungary were chief markets, and Greece competed. But in the twentieth century, America's California, in the San Joaquin valley, with an average production of over 200,000 tons annually, became the world market.

It was early in 1834, writes Kirtley Scott in the Louisville Courier-Journal, that a cargo of raisins was brought around the Horn into California from Boston and sold at a high price. It was the inception, this 220-pound shipment of grapes dried on the vine, for a giant industry which markets 400,000,000 pounds of a single product.

The modern raisin industry began in 1851 when Colonel Agoston Haraszthy imported some Muscats of Alexandria from Malaga in Spain and planted them on his San Diego ranch. Ten years later, the governor of the state sent a commission to Europe to select the best varieties of grapes obtainable there.

Science Isolates Measles Virus

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—Successful isolation of the virus that causes measles today gave science a fresh advantage in fighting childhood's most common communicable disease.

The virus was isolated for the first time by a woman, Professor Jean Broadhurst, Columbia University bacteriologist.

In "The Journal of Infectious Diseases," she said she had solved the problem that has baffled scientists for generations by the use of a simple, ink-like stain called "nigrosin."

Mucous specimens from the nose or throat of measles victims and stained clearly showed the presence of the virus.

Professor Broadhurst said the stain enabled doctors to detect measles several days before the appearance of the characteristic rash—chief symptom by which the disease has been diagnosed up till now.

Medical men expressed hope the discovery would enable them to determine measles carriers—persons carrying the virus but themselves immune to the disease—and to perfect a preventive vaccine.

Dr. Broadhurst pointed out there were 799,455 cases of measles in the nation in 1934 as compared with 256,000 of chicken pox, second most common disease.

6 Adirondack Bus Drivers Get Medals For Safe Records

Six bus drivers for the Adirondack Transit Line, who have absolutely clean records for a year so far as chargeable accidents are concerned, were the guests of honor at a dinner given by the company at the Short Line Terminal Restaurant, 495 Broadway, Tuesday night.

The drivers who were honored, with the year in which they began their service with the company, are: S. Christians, 1931; J. Berger, 1932; H. Krom, 1932; R. Reilly, 1933; E. Dingman, 1935; E. Edwards, 1936.

In addition to being feted, the six were awarded handsome gold medals and a certificate of merit testifying that they had operated "a public transport vehicle without chargeable accident for one year." The awards were presented by the Market Service, of Richmond, Va., highway transport insurance specialists, and were dated January 1, 1937. Harry Alsaksen, of the Jersey City office of the company, director of safety engineering, who awarded the medals, which were for the year 1936, told the drivers that should they continue during the year 1937 their fine record, a gold bar would be added and another for each succeeding year that they showed a clean record.

Supervisors Hold Canvass of Vote At Fall Election

Meeting as a county board of canvassers the Ulster County Board of Supervisors was called to order Tuesday evening before the regular session of the board by Chairman Edward B. Murray, of Shawangunk, and Clerk John B. Sterley read the report of the official canvass of the vote made at the annual election held last week. The report made by the board of canvassers set a record for speed since the election was held but a week prior and it has been the usual custom to call the board in session a week after election as required by law. This year due to the fact that a congressman was elected to fill a vacancy and because of the desire to seat the newly elected congressman at the opening of the special session of Congress on November 15, the Secretary of State required an early canvass of the vote. The report of the vote in this county was sent Tuesday to the Secretary of State in order to hasten the determination and give time to issue the required certificate of election and have the newly elected congressman qualify.

The official figures on the canvass varied but slightly from the vote as tabulated unofficially the day after election. When Clerk Sterley had read the figures it was moved that the candidate having the greater number of votes be declared elected and the usual certificate of election made. The board of canvassers then adjourned sine die.

Following are the official figures of the canvass. Fifteen constitutional delegates-at-large: Total vote cast: Democratic, 198,076; Republican, 282,883, of which Senator Charles Walton, of this city, polled 18,874; American Labor, 7,820; Socialist, 1,908; Industrial Government, 267; City Fusion, 381.

Schwarzwaelder Jurors Need Not Report for Duty

Sheriff Molvieux has been requested to notify the jurors who were in attendance at the October trial term of Supreme Court, and who were excused until November 15, not to attend on that date. The jurors have been excused from further service at the term because of the illness of Schwarzwaelder case which was to come up for trial that date before Justice Schirick will not be tried.

Judge Schirick said that he had received a doctor's certificate supporting a claim that counsel for the plaintiff, Abraham J. Halprin of New York, had suffered a severe eye injury and would be unable to attend court. The certificate of the New York doctor stated that Mr. Halprin's condition was such as to keep him from court for a considerable time.

The action for breach of contract was brought by William Schwarzwaelder Co., Inc., Tiskilwa Corporation, William Schwarzwaelder, S. Burrall Schwarzwaelder and Karl Schwarzwaelder, plaintiffs, against Maurice Levin. The complainants allege that the defendant agreed to become associated with the Calchester wood-working business and plans had been made for an expansion of the business and the re-organization of the company, but that he later failed to perform his part of the contract. They sue to compel performance of the contract or to collect damages. The defendant alleges that the plaintiffs were not in a position to keep their part of the agreement and also claims that there were portions of the contract signed with the plaintiffs which were in effect misrepresentations.

Because of the great amount of testimony involved in the case and the number of witnesses it was set down for a day certain and the jurors were instructed to return on November 15. With the case off until March, the jury is no longer needed.

Lord Macaulay wrote an essay to demolish a book which he set lacked merit, and promised the same treatment to similar frauds on the public.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

New York—Scientists seeking for tailor-made air to rival nature are playing with a new toy, meta-stable-oxygen.

"This," says Dr. Robert F. James of the Westinghouse Lamp Company, "is the name of a little-understood change caused by the passage through air of ultraviolet rays. The phenomenon is believed related to the process of ozone formation and is thought to impart to the air an energy state that causes a favorable physiological reaction. In other words, the something which gives a life to the air we breathe."

Meta-stable-oxygen follows on the heels of another air state attributed to ions, electrified particles of air supposed to be most numerous out in the open.

Dr. C. A. E. Winslow, of Yale, in a report to the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, says that Yale experiments have shown no appreciable effects of these ions on man.

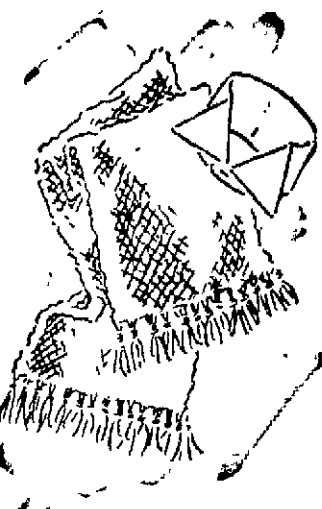

Harnett Issues Appeal
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 10 (AP).—State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Charles A. Harnett appealed today for intensification of campaigns against reckless and speeding drivers. "Highway accidents of all descriptions have risen at a startling rate thus far this year," the commissioner said. "I urge the citizens to give the figures careful consideration."

AND TALKS ON MATTERS MASCULINE

The round of winter social activities is now under way and while the dinner jacket has been adequate for most parties up to the present time, evening affairs for the balance of the formal season, especially where ladies are present, will require a tailcoat. Never before has there been so strict attention paid to the correctness of formal wear, and today the tailcoat is almost a necessity.

A white crocheted silk muffler will protect you from the chilly night blasts and also keep the immaculate linen front of your dress shirt and collar in all its pristine freshness. The collar, incidentally should have a hold wing like the one shown here.

The currently popular and correct tie for wear with the tailcoat is the white semi-butterfly. We show it here both tied and untied, and it can be shown here or alternatively, it can be of the single end variety.

Today's tailcoat is cut on lines which give the wearer an athletic appearance—broad shoulders—wide lapels—natural waistline—the trousers tapering to the bottom—and the tails extending to a fraction below the break of the knee.

An evening dress overcoat with ruffled sleeves, a small military collar and silk lining and facing retains much of the smartness of the cape and is correct with either the tailcoat or the dinner jacket. So is the silk or opera hat.

Here is a new evening shoe with a plain toe cap and a blucher front with two eyelets. Below it is the more conventional type of patent leather oxford for evening wear. And note that your trouser leg should break slightly over the instep of your shoe.

Practically all waistcoats are backless nowadays. With the tailcoat, you can wear either a single or double-breasted model in white pique or linen. The two models shown here are excellent examples of these two types in currently fashionable models.

Dog Catching and Who Should Pay

and several other supervisors stating that where a town had appointed a dog catcher and was paying out of the general fund, such town was losing money because other towns where a dog catcher was not employed were negligent in permitting the damage to go on in their towns and then have the damage assessed against the entire county. Mr. McDowell also objected to a county warden because some towns now had a warden and would be paying an additional sum.

Mr. Wadlin stated that his motion was only to have the sheriff investigate and try and relieve the situation in Hurley and Mar. The situation in Hurley and Mar. was not work some other plan would have to be adopted.

Come Hare Catchers
Supervisor Osterhout said his town had a constable who acted as dog catcher on complaint and Supervisor Williams of Hurley said his town now had a warden. He said he had not received complaints of sheep or chickens being killed in his town recently.

Supervisor Ertz brought up the question of whether a town was compelled to appoint a dog warden and Supervisor McDowell said he understood under a new law they had to make such an appointment. County Attorney Elsworth was asked for an opinion and said the town board might appoint but was not compelled to do so. Supervisor Hulsair said that had been his experience. The state had told his town it had to appoint a dog catcher but his town wrote the state they would not make such an appointment and that ended the controversy. Supervisor Kaley and others also spoke on the matter but the Wadlin resolution was adopted unanimously.

Mr. Boice stated that there was a law which made any owner of a dog liable for damage to property which was caused by such dog. Furthermore, any dog which is caught doing damage, and where the county makes good the damage, such damage can be collected to reimburse the county for any damage payments made. It was suggested that if owners of dogs knew of this law they might be more careful in allowing vicious dogs to roam at night or other times.

Beside discussing the dog situation the board also transacted considerable other business.

When Chairman Pine had called the board together Clerk Stang read a communication from the State Department of Taxation and Finance stating that the county would be required to raise the sum of $17,322.44 for the court and stenographer fund and for armory purposes. For armory purposes the sum is $11,233.28 and for court and stenographer fund $5,989.16. Filed.

Approve Snow Plan

County Superintendent of Highways Loughran sent a communication calling attention to the fact that if state aid for snow removal in the county was desired a list of highways from which snow removal was desired should be filed. The state participates in the cost up to $50 per mile. He submitted a list of all of the improved state and county routes in the county and later on motion of Supervisors Cashdollar, Haynes and Heitzman the list was approved and will be certified to the State Department.

A communication was received from the Automatic Voting Machine Company, of Jamestown, calling attention to the fact that next year all districts must have voting machines. The price of the machines will be $980 until January 1, and after that demand and advancing costs may cause an increase. The company advised that any town which now has no machines and must get them, that the matter of re-districting be taken up and the proper number of machines ordered early. Filed.

The annual report of the county clerk and deputy treasurer relative to the distribution of mortgage tax money receipts was received and filed. The amount of money to be distributed is $6,078.21. Referred to committee on county clerk.

Supervisor Wadlin of Lloyd moved that the county treasurer be empowered to extend the time for collection of taxes until May 1, 1938, provided the collectors turn over to the county treasurer all moneys collected and renew bonds. Adopted.

Supervisor Snyder moved that all bills against the county for which warrants are issued in payment be paid by such warrants which will become due on March 1, next. Adopted.

Supervisor Murray moved that all unpaid school taxes which have been returned as unpaid be levied with 7 per cent on the lands against which such taxes are charged. Over under rule.

Supervisor Denniston moved that the several abstracts of town accounts, audited by the respective town board of the several towns, be received and placed on file, and that the several amounts therein stated as necessary to pay town accounts audited, be levied as assessed on the several respective towns. Over under rule.

Supervisor Wadlin moved that all unpaid water rents in the several water districts be levied and assessed with 10 per cent added against the properties on which the rent is due. Over under rule.

Supervisor Denniston moved that the various amounts required in special districts of the town of the county be assessed against such special districts. Adopted.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
 When you feel that you are not getting the most out of life, it is because your liver and bile are not working properly. The liver is the largest internal organ in the body and it is the source of bile, which is necessary for the digestion of food. If the liver is not working properly, the bile will be thick and sticky, and it will not be able to do its job. This will result in indigestion, constipation, and a general feeling of ill health. The solution is to take a course of Dr. Scholl's Little Liver Pills. These pills are made of natural herbs and they will help to keep the liver and bile in good working order. They will also help to improve your appetite and your general health. Ask for Dr. Scholl's Little Liver Pills at your local drug store. They are sold everywhere.

Gummo, The Forgotten Marx, Turns Star-Maker

Gummo as Gummo.

Gummo as Groucho.

Gummo as Harpo.

Gummo as Chico.

Here's Gummo Marx as himself and an artist's idea of how he'd look made up as his film-famous brothers.

By CHARLES NORMAN
 (AP Feature Service Writer)
 New York—Gummo Marx, the forgotten brother of the Marx film family, quit the stage to go into the army, left the army to go into the wholesale dress business and is now back in show business.

But not in films or on the stage. His job is to "sell" actors and actresses, writers and directors to Hollywood. His brother, Zeppo, who used to be fourth man in Marx Brothers' pictures, started the business. Gummo directs operations from this end.

He sits behind a gleaming desk in a modernistic office in Rockefeller Center, a smooth-talking, immaculately-garbed Marx with a striking resemblance to Zeppo.

youngest of the family. Gummo is 40, smokes a pipe, wears double-breasted plaids with conservative checks. He seems sappy in his work, which consists mainly of interviewing pretty young women all day long—pretty young women with Hollywood aspirations.

"Be Yourself."

"I am continually looking for youngsters," he says, "girls from 16 to 25, boys of 20 to 30, for new starring material. Most of those we sign up are in other 'talks of life, not on the stage. The stage is a good source for character actors, but not for romantic leads."

The trouble is, most people, the moment they set foot on a stage or appear before cameras, think they have to be someone else—and the moment they do that they're unnatural. If they try to be someone else, they're no good.

Has To Pay.

"I am particularly on the lookout for young college men and women. They have an advantage in their education, they can speak."

"But I don't want to see children. For one thing, their mamas are so awful. For another, their earning capacity is limited."

For the most part, Gummo Marx talks like that—quietly, earnestly, very much engrossed in his business. But there are moments in his day when he acts like one of the Marx brothers, and it is plain that he knows all their tricks. Such a moment came when he got up from his desk, and then slunk back, as though creaking up on it in the manner of brother Groucho.

He always goes to see his brothers' films, but doesn't get passes. He thinks the're very funny. But he has no desire to work with them.

"I gave up my part in their vaudeville act to enlist in 1917," he explains "and Zeppo took my place and went on to films with them. Four years ago Zeppo decided he'd go to work, and started his agency. Now I'm in it, too."

Those Names.

How did the Marx brothers get those funny names?

"It was while we were all in vaudeville act to enlist in 1917," he explains "and Zeppo took my place and went on to films with them. Four years ago Zeppo decided he'd go to work, and started his agency. Now I'm in it, too."

"And Zeppo?"

"Well, we were all down on a farm, and we got to calling each other farmy names, like Zeke and Zep. Zep turned into Zeppo. Give up?"

Bronson Talks To College Women

Wilfred Bronson of Willow, speaking on "An Artist's Connection with Science", addressed the members of the College Women's Club last evening at the regular monthly meeting held at the Huntington. Mr. Bronson, who has been on three different scientific expeditions to American tropical waters was able to give his audience a wealth of interesting ideas.

It was the speaker's task on these expeditions to make color notes of the fish and their habits as well as to take accurate measurements of all the various species of marine life brought aboard the vessel. From these preliminary drawings Mr. Bronson would make his finished works upon his return to America. His notes would also be used by the taxidermists in preserving the specimens as well as by the ichthyologists in their reports of the specimens found.

Mr. Bronson explained the difficulties of under water drawing due to the mechanical difficulties and the lack of perspective under water. Mr. Bronson illustrated his lecture with sea bass, he demonstrated how to gauge the exact number of scales on a fish; with the drawing of a shark, he explained how it attacks a human; with a common hog fish, he showed how fish can change their coloring. One of the most interesting sketches was that from the point of view of the fish, and as a climax, Mr. Bronson drew a swimming man as he would look to a fish. The final drawing was an angel fish as it would look to a slightly inebriated sailor.

Preceding the lecture, a short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. John L. MacKinnon, the president. In opening the meeting, Mrs. MacKinnon acknowledged with appreciation a new gavel which had been presented by Mrs. Clarence L. Dumm. YEAR-ROUND COVERS WORK MAGIC

What luck that year-round slip covers are in style. So simple to make! Such a tonic for worn furniture, tired color schemes!

Imagine your old sofa in the stunning cover that's illustrated. It's elated colored flounce, richly patterned in cream, gold and touches of jade. For a smart finishing touch it has a flounce in plain elated linen.

You can put it together as trimly as a professional—in these 3 easy steps:

1. Smooth your material snugly over the upholstery—right side out for bound seams. Adjust so the design is the same on each sofa panel. Then anchor with pins every 3 inches—and cut 1 1/2 inches outside the pins.

2. Get the exact shape of the fronts of the arms with paper patterns. Pin the sections together, baste and try on.

3. Cover seams with plain elated binding. Add the box-pleated flounce. For a flounce with pleats 2 inches wide and 2-inch spaces between, measure a little more than twice around.

No danger of going wrong if you follow the step-by-step directions and diagrams in our 40-page booklet, MAKING SLIP COVERS SUCCESSFULLY. How to make covers for all types of chairs and sofas. Tips on trimmings, materials, styles.

Jury Selected In Child Abuse Case

Six jurors, four men and two women, were in the jury box Tuesday afternoon when County Judge Traver adjourned the day's session until 10 o'clock today. The jury is being selected to hear the evidence in the case of The People vs. Robert Hutchinson, 19 year old youth, who is charged with carnal abuse of a five year old child in this city last August. The assault is alleged to have taken place in a vacant house on Henry street, where the lad was arrested.

As a result of the abuse the child was treated at the hospital here. Indicted by the grand jury in September, the youth has been given a mental examination and has been found to have a very low mental status.

Assistant District Attorney Flaver is appearing for The People and Elmer Nathan, assigned by the court, appears for the defendant.

Appointed Knight of St. Gregory

New York, Nov. 10—At a brief evening ceremony at the Cardinal's residence, 452 Madison avenue, his Eminence Patrick Cardinal Hayes yesterday presented from His Holiness Pope Pius XI to John A. Coleman, 812 Park avenue, an outstanding Catholic layman of the New York Archdiocese and a trustee of the Catholic Charities, an Apostolic Knight of St. Gregory the Great. Since 1933, Mr. Coleman has been active chairman of the Special Gifts committee of the Cardinal's committee of the Lally, under the honorary chairmanship of former Governor Smith, in annual appeals for funds for The Catholic Charities.

The work of the Special Gifts committee under his leadership for the first time carried the needs of Catholic Charities to the people of New York city and the Archdiocese, adding to the basic parish appeal a general appreciation of the value of Catholic Charities to the community as a whole.

Jennie Embree, 58, Injured in Auto Mishap Tuesday

Mrs. Jennie Embree, 58, of Stone Ridge, was injured about 4:20 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when she was struck by a car operated by Harry Lane, of Bearerville, a grader operator in the employ of the County Highway Department. Lane at the time was returning from work and was proceeding toward Kingston. The accident in which Mrs. Embree was slightly injured happened near the Stone Ridge school house as Mrs. Embree was on her way to a neighbor's across the road to purchase eggs.

Apparently struck by the handle of the door, Mrs. Embree suffered a bad cut on her arm which required 11 stitches to close. Dr. Sher, of Stone Ridge, attended her. The cut was 10 or 12 inches long and extended to the bone.

Deputies Vredenburg and McCullough made an investigation of the accident. The details were rather conflicting. Mrs. Embree claims that she was not in the road and did not understand why the car was driven over to the left where she was struck. She contended she was out of the highway.

Mr. Lane told the officers that he saw Mrs. Embree as she came from the house on the east of the highway on her way to the Janison Bailey place across the road. He said he blew his horn and she stopped and when he started to go around her to the left she started ahead and he could not avoid her. His 1936 Ford coupe struck her on the arm and she was thrown to the ditch.

Mrs. Embree's son, who was at home said he saw her getting up from the ditch after the accident. He assisted the officers in getting her home and her injuries were attended.

Highland Is Next On Maroon Slate

With the coveted DUSO crown entirely out of their hands for another year, the Kingston High School gridders have started out on another gruelling week of practice. At the Fair Grounds this Saturday afternoon the Klasmen play Highland. If the efforts of G. Warren Kias can get by Highland and then Newburgh, the ancient rival on Turkey Day, the season will be revealed as a success even though the club couldn't compare with other DUSO material.

As the record now stands the local scholastic pigskin toters have won only two out of five games. In these five games the opposition has scored sixty-four points against the Klasmen's 37. The record: Norwich 24, K. H. S. 0; K. H. S. 6, Oneonta 0; K. H. S. 19, Poughkeepsie 0; Middletown 20, K. H. S. 6; Port Jervis 20, K. H. S. 6. This leaves only Highland and Newburgh on the list.

Saturday's game will get under way again at 2:15. In the Port Jervis game, Wilcox, Ray, Schneider, Tommy Maines and Milt Friedman suffered light injuries but will be ready to go again Saturday.

FAMED MAIL ROUTE IS 80 YEARS OLD

Opened First Transcontinental Postal Service.

San Diego, Calif.—The first transcontinental mail service is 80 years old this year. James Birch inaugurated his "Great Southern Overland" three years before the Wells Fargo Pony Express came into existence.

Known to pioneers as the "Jackass Mail," the line operated from San Diego to San Antonio, Texas, and then eastward to the Atlantic seaboard.

The southern mail route ran across San Diego county to Fort Yuma on the California side of the Colorado river. It went through Tucson, Ariz., to El Paso, Texas, and on to San Antonio, Texas, for a total distance of 1,500 miles.

By Stage and Mail.

These connections were made by stage, stage and steamer to eastern points.

Often compared in historical importance with victories of the army in the war with Mexico a decade before, Birch's mail line is credited with aiding in preserving the West for the United States.

As an investment, the "Great Southern Overland" was no shoe-string venture. Its financial record listed assets at more than $500,000. The line owned "1,000 good stage horses, valued at $275,000; 148 old stage horses, $14,800; 41 Spanish horses, $1,140; 127 mules, $19,050, and 63 coaches, $44,100."

Coaches and wagons, as well as saddle ponies, were used in carrying mail and passengers over the route and when inclement weather bogged down the roads, so horse or mule drawn vehicles came to an impasse, riders—and sometimes passengers—mounted mule or horse and jogged over the mountains on a saddle route shortcut.

Dogged by Indians.

Yuma Indians and bandits dogged the trail of many intrepid mail carriers, and often, after crossing 100 miles of desert east of San Diego, the pioneers would find their chartered water holes dried up or filled with sand.

Alvin F. Harlow's accounts in "Old Waybills" reveal that "on the trail west of the Rio Grande wheels had never rolled before. The Apaches gave trouble whenever they felt in the mood, which was five-sixths of the time. Mail packages and provisions were taken over (the Rio Grande) in boats, and finally the forewheels of the stage were set in one skiff, the hind wheels in another, and this wobbly contrivance was paddled and pulled across the raging stream."

Round-Robin Epistle in Circulation 35 Years

Madison, Wis.—A round-robin letter that for 35 years has been forwarded again and again to nearly all sections of the world is kept in circulation by 15 graduates of the University of Wisconsin's class of 1902.

The letter was started when the students were reluctant to part upon graduation.

In June, 11 of the 15 met here at their class reunion. At that time all were alive, but one, Paul C. Foster, Chicago, has since died.

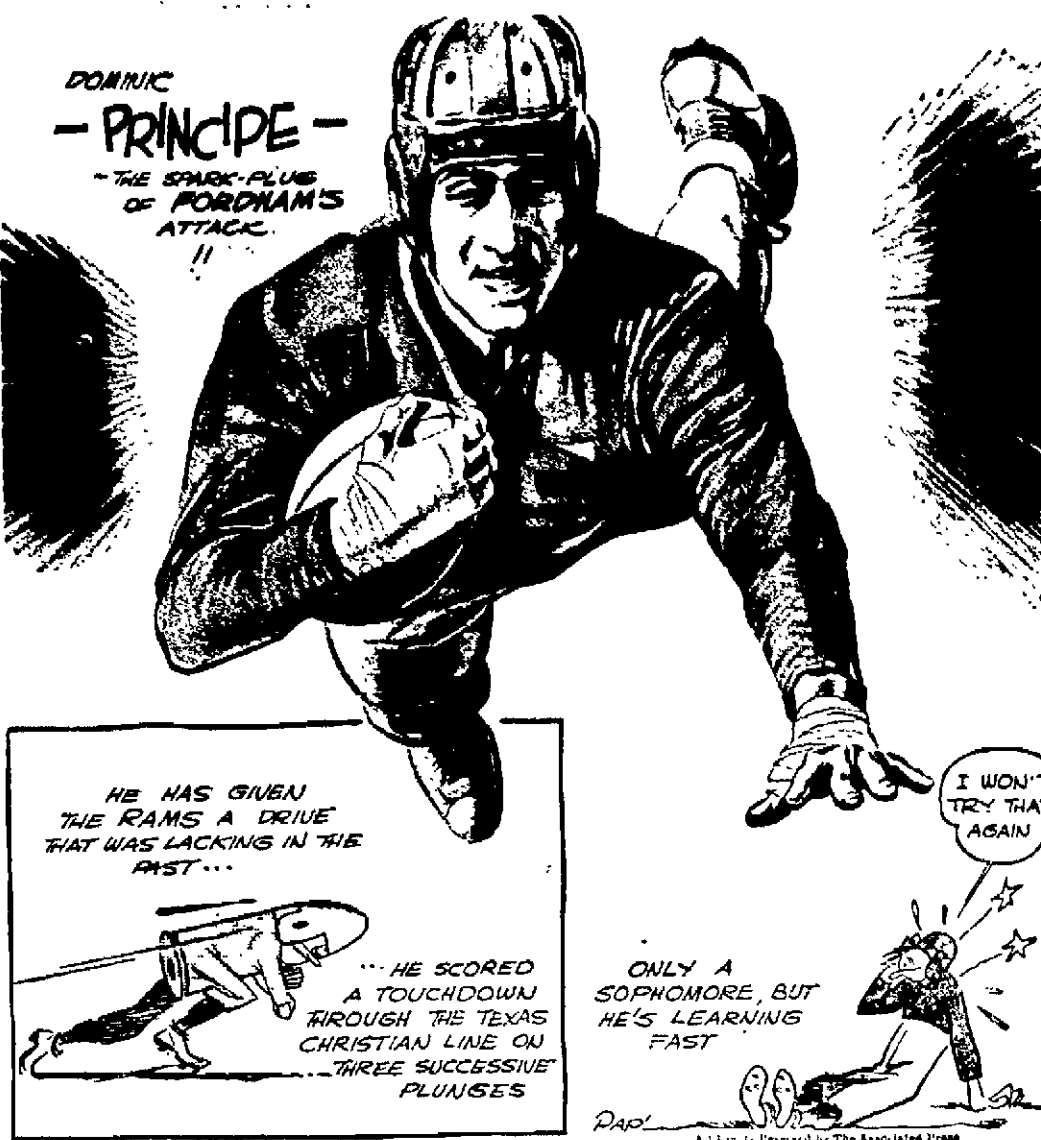

The group was drawn together by a mutual interest in forming a Y. M. C. A. here during their student days.

Their interest in Y. M. C. A. work continued after graduation, and at one time nine of the fifteen were Y. M. C. A. secretaries.

Five of the round-robin club members made Y. M. C. A. work their life vocation. Three became high school and university instructors, two became physicians, two entered law practice, two became insurance salesmen, and another went to live on a farm.

Y. M. C. A. work carried several of the members to China and Japan. A letter started in Japan would go to the hands of the members with each letter to it until it would be

Flashing For Fordham —By Pap

The Fordham attack, which showed promise of going places in early season tests only to sputter against Pittsburgh, began hitting on all cylinders in the closing minutes of the Fordham-Texas Christian clash.

Coach Jim Crowley's sophomore backfield clicked just in time to make a 7-6 victory over the Horned Frogs possible. They had bogged down three times on the threshold of a score. That the youngsters kept trying despite the discouraging goal-line stands of the T. C. U. forward wall was a tribute to their courage and promised better things.

That the boys profited by the experience with T. C. U. was borne out a week later, when they downed a previously unbeaten North Carolina in the Southern's backyard. The team showed a drive that must have warmed Coach Jim Crowley's heart.

To Dominic Principe, a rugged, fast-stepping sophomore fullback, must go a great portion of the credit for Fordham's new-found punch. Principe carried the ball on three successive line smashes and over the goal-line against Texas Christian. He gave the Rams confidence in their ability to score. Now that they have that confidence the Rams are likely to be very hard to beat.

Not big for a fullback, Principe weighs less than 150 pounds. He makes up for his lack of heft with hard running and a high knee action that makes him a difficult target for tacklers. With each Saturday he gains poise and football sense. As he has improved, so has Fordham's attack.

Fordham has its usual defense-conscious line, Pittsburgh, Texas Christian and North Carolina could not score through it. And against North Carolina, rated a smart team, Fordham's attack combined deception with power.

Birdseye View Of Sports Events

By EDDIE BRIEZY

New York, Nov. 10 (AP).—The one-looking youngster playing center for Dartmouth's undefeated Indians is the son of Billy Gibson, the old fight manager, who piloted both Benny Leonard and Gene Tunney to world championships.

Like Max Schmeling, Tunney was a good business man and often preferred to sign his own contracts. . . . More than once he left a boiling Gibson sitting in the anteroom while Gene closed for important fights. . . . But when he came into the big dough, Tunney didn't forget. If you believe the stories told in the Broadway spots, Gene did so well by Gibson that Billy has to do these days is doze in the sun at the Polo Grounds in the summer and drop into Leonard's joint for a spot or two of ale in the winter.

And Dan Caplin, another New York fight manager, has a son who is coping about all the scholastic honors in sight down at the University of Virginia.

Jimmy Kelly, club king, planned to bid as high as $20,000 for the Chief when the C. V. Whitney string was placed on sale Monday. . . . Jimmy forgot the date of the sale and was he burned up yesterday when he read Earl Sande, the former jockey, had bought the Chief for $14,100.

Old Jack Johnson is making daily appearances at Prof. Hubert's dime museum on 42nd street. . . . Dick Griffin, Dallas fight promoter, is in town for an operation on his eye.

A good yarn is going the rounds about the source of Minnesota's football players. . . . Each spring, just about plowing time, Bernie Bierman hits the grit for the hinterland. . . . Every field that has a young man working in it is a Bierman stop. . . . He asks the youth the way to the next town. . . . If the kid points with his finger, Bierman drives on. . . . But if the youngster just picks up his plough and points to the town, he shows up at Minneapolis the next fall. . . . And don't think that a plough-pointing thing can't be done. . . . Johnny Marcum, Red Sox pitcher, does it all winter down at Eminence, Ky.

Those wild and woolly Texas sports writers not only pick winners, but try to guess the scores as well. . . . Col. Dick Freeman of the Houston Chronicle has missed three of Rice's major games by only five points. . . . He guessed: L. S. U. 14, Rice 9; Rice 13, Texas 7; Rice 10, Auburn 1. . . . Scores were: 13-0 for L. S. U.; 14-7 for Rice, and 13-7 for Rice. . . . Move up to the head of the class, mister. This week's Rose Bowl guesses are Pitt and California (with Fordham in the eastern ante room). . . . Up to now we've stuck to Alabama in the East, but it lost a lot of ground Saturday and hasn't played anything near the schedule of either Pitt or Fordham.

Football Champions Find It Difficult to Stay on Top

New York, Nov. 10 (AP).—The football champions of a year ago are finding out it's a tough assignment to stay on top of the heap.

As the 1937 campaign draws to a close in the nation's seven major football conferences, only Duke, defending its Southern Conference title, is in a favorable position to repeat.

With Eric (the Red) Tipton and Elmore (Honey) Hackney as holdovers from the 1936 outfit, the Blue Devils have won all seven of their conference games, but they face their biggest hurdle this week in North Carolina.

Nebraska, no longer powerhouse by Sam Francis and Lloyd Cardwell, is scrapping stubbornly to keep its Big Six crown properly poised. But the Huskers may be eliminated by too many ties—two too many. They have been held even twice, won two and have one more to play. Kansas, with two to go, has won twice and been tied only once.

Arkansas's Razorbacks, who won their first Southwest Conference title a year ago after losing it the year before by playing an ineligible man, may yet emerge as rogues. But only a complete collapse by Rice and Baylor could bring that about.

Washington, Northwestern, Utah State and Louisiana State also are pretty much behind the eight-ball as far as repeating is concerned.

California, though tied by the coast champion Huskies last Saturday, seems bound to finish on top of the pile this season and jump from there into the Rose Bowl.

Northwestern is virtually out of the Big Ten race now, and is in for a further mess of trouble Saturday against Minnesota's conference leaders. The Gophers, though at any time, have been aiming for a year at revenge for the Northwestern victory last season.

DUCKY IS "MOST VALUABLE"

Joe "Ducky" Medwick, St. Louis Cardinal outfield flash, beat out Gabby Hartnett, Chicago Cubs catcher, for the title of most valuable player in the National League, in the baseball writer's poll. Joe is shown above with his mother in her Cardinal, N. J., kitchen asking "How's about grub?"

Joe Medwick Wins 12 Teams Sign in 'Valuable' Award City Cage League For Auditorium

New York, Nov. 10 (AP).—Joe Medwick, the payoff guy of the St. Louis Cardinals gashouse gang, has the National League's most valuable player award for 1937 to add to his record string of batting "firsts."

"Muscles" did all he could to earn the prize. He won the batting championship, led in hits, runs batted in and doubles and tied with the Giants' Mel Ott for the home run title. Even so he barely nudged Gabby Hartnett, the spirited Chicago catcher, who drew 68 votes to Joe's 70. Eight members of the Baseball Writers' Association made the selection.

During the past season, Medwick compiled a batting average of .374; he hit safely 237 times, batted in 154 runs and hit 57 doubles and 31 home runs.

Carl Hubbell, the shrewd, smooth left-hander of the New York Giants, who won the award last year, was third choice with 52 points. Two newcomers to the headlines, the Boston Bees' venerable rookie pitcher, Jim Turner, and Lou Fette, wound up third and fourth.

Medwick, christened Joseph Michael but better known as "Ducky-Wucky" or "Muscles," is the third Cardinal to win the award. His manager, Frankie Frisch, was chosen in 1931, and Dizzy Dean in 1934.

A sensation as a schoolboy player at Carteret, N. J., Medwick came up via Scotland, Pa., in the Mid-Atlantic League and Houston of the Texas League. Starting in 1932, he has a six-year average just under .350. In his only world series appearance, in 1934, he hit for .379.

A timely hitter, he is unorthodox in that he hits consistently at bad balls. He swings right-handed with a pronounced wrist snap and hits on a line. Medwick will be 26, November 24.

Baseball Trades Start December 1

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 10 (AP).—Bargain hunters in the baseball ivory market, from all indications today, are prepared to do a large amount of early Christmas shopping when they assemble in Milwaukee December 1 for the three-day minor league meeting.

The meeting is primarily for the "little fellows," but as usual the big brothers in the major leagues may be expected to steal the show. Interest will center on three new major league managers—Oscar Vitl of Cleveland, Bill McKee of Cincinnati, and Charles Dillon Stengel of the Boston Bees—to see what moves they will make to patch sagging lineups.

If Charles (Gabby) Street is here as manager of the St. Louis Browns, as not a few suspect he will be, that will make it a four-some.

Several trades rumored to be in the making. These rumors, have fastballing Van Lingle Mungo of Brooklyn picked for the Chicago Cubs, Pitcher Jack Wilson of the Boston Red Sox headed for the New York Yankee fold, and Zeke Bonura going to Washington and Joey Kuhel to the Chicago White Sox in a swap of first basemen.

Weldner Is Mat Champ

Dayton, O., Nov. 10 (AP).—Billy Weldner, 175, San Francisco, defeated the Great Mephisto, 175, Meriden, Conn., in two of three falls last night for the light

"I have nothing definite settled on the starting lineup for tonight," Frank Morgenweck told a reporter concerning his Colonials' game with the Brooklyn Visitation in the Municipal Auditorium.

"Yes, Dubblett and Brown probably will get into the lineup, but I can't say whether we'll start them or wait until the game is under way," said Morgenweck.

The Old Maestro is doing a lot of figuring, trying to find the route to victory in tonight's skirmish with the Visitations. Those two hard ones the Colonials lost to the Jersey Reds and Celtes have the Kingston pilot on edge about breaking into the win column.

The Vissies, who also are on the red side of the ledger, hope to hit the Glory Road tonight, which means plenty of fire for the customers who turn out to see the battle. Starting time is 9:15 o'clock.

Concerning his starters, Morgenweck said he didn't care to say anything. "I really don't know who we'll send out first, but there is a chance of Moe Dubblett going in for Carl Husta at the outset."

"It's all up to Carl, though, and I know he'll use his best judgment."

Husta has been starting with the Colonials, and leaving Dubblett to continue in the last period.

"If Carl wants Moe to work for the first period, or the first and second, then go in to finish himself off'll be OK with me. However, Dubblett needs polishing up on defensive play."

Dubblett's aggressiveness suits Morgenweck, but, the veteran pilot says Moe runs loose when it comes to defense. "This is what lets those clubs get the sinkers, and I don't like to see a man dump in a basket without some opposition," Morgenweck said.

Whether Dubblett will hook up with Phil Ralton in one of the guard slots, remains to be seen when the referee blows the whistle.

One Colonial sure of his position is Tiny Hearn, the giant center. "I think Hearn is going to play better ball this season," advised the Old Maestro. "Tiny is out there to toss in a few of those two-pointers, and I like it. We can't make him stick too close to defensive play as in the past."

Allie Shuckman, Jimmy Brown and Chuck Stanton will be ready for forward jobs, and most likely Shuckman and Stanton will answer the opening whistle.

"Stanton has not hit his standard of play yet," was Morgenweck's opinion, "but he should get going soon."

It is likely that Brooklyn will start Alie Esposito and Red Conaty up front; Howie Gololman, center, and Nardus Frankel and Babe Synott, guards.

"There are no setups in the American League this season," remarked Morgenweck. "All of the teams have plenty of fighting spirit and material to back it. It looks like a real hot fight."

Another Cut for High Basketeers

Once again Head Coach G. Warren Kias has let free his axe, this time cutting approximately 15 more basketball recruits from the list of 46. Assistant Coach Dick Whiston is working out in the school gym with 31 newcomers and the veterans.

The following squad that has been retained for the present: J. Atwater, G. Anderson, H. Beatty, W. Ball, J. Castle, L. Corbelli, G. Celuch, D. Dubblett, W. Ferguson, R. Grant, J. Grant, R. Gerber, R. Halstein, J. Hughes, K. Hornbeck, R. Jackson, A. Jones, D. Krom, J. Kelse, A. Moloney, J. Martin, J. Marton, W. Relyea, J. St. Leger, L. Sapp, W. Schmitt, L. Sawyer, J. Tucker, Weishaupt and Naussbaum.

Following the first official week of workouts in the school gym, Dick Whiston is beginning to prepare for light scrimmages to take place at the end of the week or early next week. Nearly every day the newcomers augmented by the old standbys go through their paces on the court. So far this year at practices "Sloat" Rowland, Charlie Beck, Bob Mareca, Paul Arguelevich, George Silverburg and other experienced players have looked good for another season.

After the Thanksgiving football game Tommy Maines and Bill Meagher will come out in court togs.
